THE ECLIPSE WAS VISIBLE.

Many Daytonians Caught a Glimpse of the Moon in its Eclipse This Morning.—Skies Were Clear.

The skies were clear at midnight and early this morning, and the people of Daytona and vicinity had an excellent chance to see the total eclipse of the moon. Many availed themselves of the opportunity.

The time when the moon entered the dark shadow was 11:57 p.m.; the middle of the eclipse occurred at 2:47 a.m.; at 1:57 the total eclipse began and at 3:37 a.m. the moon once more shone in all its fullness.

Smoked glasses were much in evidence in many of the homes, and many interested parties watched eagerly the movements of the eclipse.

The first contact occurred on the eastern limb of the moon, 96 degrees from the north point, and the last contact on the western limb, 71 degrees from the north point. The entire duration of the eclipse was three hours and forty minutes, and the length of totality was one hour thirty-eight minutes and twenty-four seconds.

A Poem for Today

HASTE NOT, REST NOT

By Schiller

JOHANN CHRISTOPHER FRIEDRICH VON SCHILLER was born at Marbach, Germany, Nov. 10, 1759, and died at Weimar May 9, 1805. He is famous as poet, dramatist and historian. The following adaptation is by Christopher Christian Cox, a physician, born in Baltimore in 1816. He was a surgeon in the United States army and was lieutenant governor of Maryland in 1865.

WITHOUT haste, without rest!
Bind the motto to thy breast;
Bear it with thee as a spell;
Storm or sunshine, guard it well.
Heed not flowers that round thee bloom;
Bear it onward to the tomb.

Haste not; let no reckless deed
Mar for aye the spirit's speed.
Ponder well and know the right—
Forward then with all thy might!
Haste not; years cannot atone
For one reckless action done.

Rest not; time is sweeping by.
Do and dare before you die;
Something mighty and sublime
Leave behind to conquer time.
Glorious 'tis to live for aye
When these forms have passed away.

Haste not, rest not; calmly wait.
Meekly bear the storms of fate.
Duty be thy polar guide—
Do the right whate'er betide!
Haste not, rest not; conflicts past,
God shall crown thy work at last!

MAN INVESTS.

Theodore Sengstak Bought Flats in Jacksonville at a Cost of $18,000, Brings a Handsome Revenue.

Theodore Sengstak, a well known resident of Daytona, has invested $18,000 in Jacksonville real estate, as the following from the Jacksonville Metropolis will testify:

"The apartment house at No. 119 Newman Street, known as the Folsom flats, has been sold by A. B. Campbell to Theodore Sengstak, the purchase price being $18,000. The property is centrally located and contains six modern flats of five rooms each.

"On account of the location it is always occupied at a rental of $25 per month for each of the six flats. This building was one of the first to be constructed in the burnt district after the great fire of May 3, 1901."

A Correction.

Editor Daily News:

Last Wednesday's Halifax Journal contained the following item in reference to me, which is erroneous and false: "While riding his wheel near the corner of Orange and Beach Streets, Monday afternoon, Mr. Geo. M. P. Holt, a guest at The Austin, attempted to run down an automobile, and was considerably bruised, but no bones broken. He hopes to be out in a few days. The wheel was wrecked."

I have telephoned to the Journal of the office asking them to call on me in order that I might give them the necessary information to correct the erroneous impression that the above item might create. None of the Journal staff have been to see me, and as I am confined to my bed it is impossible for me to go to them. The facts of the case were correctly stated in last Tuesday's Daily News.

I was riding down Beach Street, keeping to the right of the street, when the runabout came around the corner and struck me from the rear.

This correction is made that my numerous friends may know the truth of the matter. GEO. M. P. HOLT.

THINKS IT A

GREAT PLAY.

"Not Like Other Girls" Comes to Daytona With the Best of New York References.

The entire press of New York City was unanimous in its praise of Frederick Schwartz's new comedy drama, "Not Like Other Girls," which will make its appearance here next Tuesday evening. The drama tells of the story of an adventurer who enters the home circle of a worthy woman. He sows seeds of discord between father and son, and finally robs and murders the deacon under conditions that fix the blame of the crime upon his own son. The hypnotic and mental telepathic powers of the fiancée of the hero forced the murderer to confess his crime before a group of horrified witnesses, summoned before the coroner. The death by lightning of the murderer in the last act was an interesting and novel piece of stage business that evoked rounds of applause and necessitated many curtain calls. The cast is composed of well-known artists in the dramatic world, headed by Miss Alyce Kee Nan, the clever star, who plays admirably the role "Alyce," the mind reader.

BAGGAGEMAN CONVICTED.

Harry Hopkins Sentenced to a Five Years' Term.—Many Daytona Visitors Suffered Last Winter.

Visitors to Daytona early last winter, and the fall previous, were greatly disturbed over the fact that a great many of their pieces of baggage were short, and others were pilfered. In Jacksonville, at the Sheriff's office, for several months, locked in two desks, were an array of valuables that amounted into the thousands.

Harry Hopkins, of Lakeland, in the employ of the Florida East Coast Railway, as baggageman, was convicted in the Circuit Court, at St. Augustine, on Wednesday, for the embezzlement of property entrusted to him. He was sentenced by Judge Call to five years in the penitentiary.

Hopkins was tried under an indictment charging him with the larceny and embezzlement of goods to the value of $175 taken from a trunk. There are

A Poem for Today

DRAKE'S DRUM

By Henry Newbolt

HENRY JOHN NEWBOLT, born June 6, 1862, at Bilston, England, is a poet, a lawyer and an editor. His reputation rests chiefly on songs celebrating the achievements of the British navy. Sir Francis Drake was commander of the British fleet which destroyed the Spanish armada, the name given to the fleets sent by Spain against England in the reign of Elizabeth. Plymouth Hoe is a high tableland or cliff, forming the sea front of the town of Plymouth. From the top of this cliff, which for centuries has been the favorite recreation ground of the townspeople, the Spanish armada was first descried. When the news was carried to Drake and his captain, who were playing at bowls on the "Hoe" green, he coolly went on with the game, announcing that "there was plenty of time" to beat the Spaniards afterward.

Drake he was a Devon man an' ruled the Devon seas,
(Captain, art thou sleepin' there below?)
Havin' tho' his death toll, he went wif' heart at ease
An' dreamin' art the time o' Plymouth Hoe.
"Take my drum to England, hang it by the shore,
Strike it when your powder's remain' low,
If the Dons sight Devon I'll quit the port o' heaven
An' drum them up the channel as we drummed them long ago."

Drake he's in his hammock an' a thousand mile away,
(Captain, art thou sleepin' there below?)

Slung between the round shot in Nombre Dios bay
An' dreamin' art the time o' Plymouth Hoe,

Yarwood limes the island, yarder lie the ships,
Wif' sailor lads a-dancin' heel-an'-toe.

An' the shore lights flashin' an' the night tide dashin',
He sees et art so plainly as he saw et long ago.

Drake lies in his hammock till the great Armadas come,
(Captain, art thou sleepin' there below?)

Slung between the round shot, listen! for the drum
An' dreamin' art the time o' Plymouth Hoe.

Call him on the deep sea, call him up the sound,
Call him when he sail to meet the foe.

Where the old trade's plyin' an' the old flag flyin'
They shall find him ware an' walkin', as they found him long ago.

DAYTONA AND ITS ATTRACTIONS.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its farthest expanse and midway between its source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29, seventy-four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of to-day, with its beautiful cottages and well-graded walks and streets. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lordly live and water oaks and hickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palmettos, glossy-leaved magnolias, fragrant bay and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the ampeopsis climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions.

The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half-mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health-giving breezes from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well-graded, marled and shelled roads and streets, rendering it the

and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long-distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its summer homes as for its beautiful river, trees and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.
Not the least of these attractions to those securing homes in the South and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinement of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, good public and private schools, stores, hotels, laundry, meat markets, novel, works, an opera house, electric light for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, Lily Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

Water Supply
which is derived from numerous flowing wells, of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and this depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona proper is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach which are properly a part of the town and population.

Daytona Beach
lies one mile east of the town. It is approached by three good bridges over the river and well-graded avenues, and is the principal summer resort south of St. Augustine. It has more tourists during the summer than all other places south of that city combined, and is also becoming a favorite winter resort. The beach is wide, firm and smooth, by many considered the finest in the world, and the surf bathing is safe and excellent summer and winter. People who have tried Northern and Western summer resorts declare that there are none so perfect comfort as Daytona beach.

Automobile Race Meet.
The Florida East Coast Automobile Association conducts an annual race meet on the beach, which has now a universal reputation as the greatest automobile race course in the world. The Daytona-Orlando Beach is hard as macadam, and an ideal stretch of thirty or more miles without a break makes it the natural racing ground for America.

At low tide the beach is bare for 300 feet and neither carriage wheel or bicycle or pedestrian can make a track visible imprint on the smooth sand, and it is no uncommon sight to see well-rigged bicycles speeding with the velocity of the wind before a stiff breeze along the smooth beach, thus affording the most exhilarating sport known to man. Here these miles of hard-shelled palm-fringed boulevard bring the lovers of the wheel and vehicles into direct touch with the mainland over the broad bridges which span the splendid Halifax River.

The beach from the sandy bluffs to the lowest point at ebb tide, measures about 500 feet, and the average depth of the surf measures about two feet. A continuous gentle swell rolls in from the ocean from one to two feet in depth under normal conditions, making the beach an attractive and absolutely safe place for surf-bathing. Here the infant as well as the gray-haired veteran of many summers can safely enjoy the luxury of a sea bath, and throughout the larger part of the year while the strong and expert swimmer can venture out further to test his strength and skill in battling with the inexhaustible powers of the mighty ocean.

The Peninsula
lying between river and ocean is one half mile wide, and is being rapidly improved, and there are many fine cottages and several good hotels, at per house, two ocean piers, beach, avilion and a large casino.

A Remarkable Feature
at Daytona has been the yearly improvement in the style and value of the buildings that are being erected for homes. Men of capital of the North and West have become awakened to its advantages for winter residences, and valuable lots are being purchased and costly houses, beautiful in design and finish, are being erected, and beautiful homes, the abodes of wealth and culture are multiplying.

Seabreeze (City Beautiful) and Goodall are settlements on the Ocean side of the peninsula across the Halifax River from Daytona.
At the foot of Ocean Boulevard, Seabreeze, a pier reaches 600 feet across the beach into the swelling surf of the ocean. This pier is the sport of those who delight in the sport of fishing. The surf here abounds in trout, pompano, yellowtail, cavalle, whiting, drum, sheepshead and many other varieties of edible fish. During the fall season the famous sea bass affords royal sport, and it has been no uncommon occurrence to land a thousand pounds of this gamey fish in an afternoon. Individuals of them ranging from fifteen to thirty-five pounds in weight. Not only does the ocean offer this splendid sport but the Halifax River, only half a mile back of the ocean, is equally famous for its fine fishing, and the varieties that abound in the ocean are present in the river.
Hunting and fishing good. Experienced guides and dogs may be had at reasonable prices.

A dance will be given at the Armory this evening by Mrs. Spangler.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Willett, of Cohasset, Mass., are located at the Palmetto House.

W. E. Jones and H. A. Groot are representing Atlanta in the recent arrivals at Schmidt's Villa.

A. W. Newlin has rented the F. C. Fitten cottage, on Ridgewood Avenue, through Smith & Thomas.

Jacksonville was represented in the city yesterday by H. L. Robiders, W. H. Arnold and Jno. A. Sullivan.

D. F. Gray, a well known young attorney, of Jacksonville, who is associated with the firm of Bryan and Bryan, is in the city on business.

*Man and wife (white) want the care of a winter residence. Best of references. Address, C. L. Harrison, Deland, Fla. 21

The chicken supper given by the Ladies' Aid Society, of the Baptist Church, last evening was a decided success, and the affair netted a neat sum. In connection with the supper, they had a fancy work and candy table, that were liberally patronized. During the evening, those musically inclined rendered selections on the piano that were greatly appreciated.

write home for money, and sent the jewelry to show his parents he was not spending his money in dissipation. He was clearly questioned as to how the jewelry in evidence came into his possession. He claimed to have bought it all from two negro trainmen.

B. W. Pope, of Cohasset, Ohio, is a recent arrival at the New Seaside Inn.

The guests of Schmidt's Villa last evening, thoroughly enjoyed the selections by P. Geo. Schappert on the harp, with Miss Minch, as an accompanist. During the evening dancing was indulged in by those so inclined, who report having had a very pleasant time.

*Drink Tetley's India and Ceylon Teas.

The drill of the Halifax Rifles, last Tuesday evening, was a very satisfactory one and it evidenced that the boys are taking much more interest in military matters than heretofore. Those who fail to attend the drills will be brought before a summary court and fined.

It is probable that a program of races will be arranged for George Washington's Birthday, February 22nd, by the Halifax River Yacht Club, as the matter is now being agitated. There are quite a number of swift craft in this vicinity, and no doubt several interesting events can be pulled off.

*Moore Brothers have the name of having the handsomest line of Summer Dress Goods of any one in town, and this year is no exception. Their new goods are now on exhibition.

George A. Upton, proprietor of the Ocean Side Hotel, at Magnolia, Mass., is among the guests at The Palmetto. He expects to spend the winter in Daytona.

Patience is the art of hoping.—Vaughan.
BREAKFAST: Corned Beef and Cabbage, Beans, Macaroni, Potatoes, Coffee.
DINNER: Rice Soup, Corned Beef and Cabbage, Beans, Macaroni, Potatoes, Coffee.
SUPPER: Chocolate and Orange Jumbles, Tea.
FROZEN CUSTARD (with the fruit frozen in). One quart of milk, one quart of cream, six eggs and three cups of sugar beaten up with the yolks, one pint of fine peaches cut up small. Beat the quart of milk almost to boiling and add gradually to the beaten yolks and sugar. Whip in the frothed whites, return to custard kettle and stir until it is a thick, soft custard. Let it get perfectly cool, beat in the cream and freeze. If you let it freeze itself, stir in the fruit after second beating; if you turn freezer, put in the fruit when custard is like congealed mush.
